MOSCOW BIG FOUR MEETING BEGINS

Truman Message On Near East Set Wednesday

TO SPEAK TO CONGRESS ON GREEK CRISIS

Expected To Ask Quarter Billion Loan To Bolster Balkan Country.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10 — President Truman will address congress Wednesday on the "whole question" of the Greek crisis and the general situation in the Mediterranean area.

From others, it was learned that Mr. Truman will ask for a $250,000,000 direct loan to Greece.

Those persons — among those who talked with Mr. Truman — said they expected the President in his address to:

1. Explain frankly to congress and the people the necessity of bolstering the tottering government of King George.

2. Discuss the possibility that some military supplies may have to be transferred from surplus stocks to Germany to outfit the Greek army in its clashes with Communist-trained guerrillas.

Mr. Truman was represented as having told the 13 members of the house and senate who met with him that unless the United States acts quickly the Greek government may fail and Communist elements seize control of that strategic Mediterranean country.

The President was said to have emphasized that in any action this country takes it will be serving primarily the objective of world peace and American self-interest.

Joint Announcement Made

Announcements of Mr. Truman's decision to go before a joint session at 1 p. m. that day were made by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) and the White House after an hour and 20-minute conference of the President and congressional leaders.

Vandenberg, head of the senate foreign relations committee, told reporters that Mr. Truman would speak in behalf of the proposed Greek loan.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, said the address—not as yet finished—will require about 20 minutes to deliver. It likely will be broadcast over all radio networks.

Ross would not elaborate on this brief announcement:

"The President is going before a joint session at 1 p. m. Wednesday. He will address the joint session on the situation in the Near East."

Outlines Situation

Ross said the session between Mr. Truman and the congressional leaders of both parties was devoted to an outline of the Near East situation and to an "interchange of views."

In talking to reporters, Vandenberg said:

"The President has discussed with us in great candor the situation involved in connection with the proposed Greek loan.

"He will come to congress at noon Wednesday to a joint session of the house and senate to discuss the whole situation."

A figure of $250,000,000 has been discussed as the amount Greece needs from the United States in view of Britain's decision that it cannot go through the commitments it has made to King George's government at Athens.

Declines To Elaborate

Vandenberg, one of 13 members of a bi-partisan congressional group who talked with Mr. Truman declined to elaborate on this brief statement.

Senator Connally of Texas, ranking Democratic member of the senate foreign relations committee said that the session was "harmonious one."

When reporters asked Connally whether Mr. Truman specifically recommended a Greek loan, the senator replied:

"He will say that . . . he will advise that on Wednesday."

Connally added that all the legislators present agreed not to discuss the matter at all until the president's message."

Top Republican and Democratic leaders of congress attended the meeting.

These included Sen. Taft (R-

3 WANTED BY 2 AUTHORITIES

OPA Seeks Men on Sugar Charge; Police Press Torture Count.

By The Associated Press

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 10—Both federal and local authorities today put in a claim for three Chicagoans accused of torturing a Grand Rapids man.

Held were Herbert Foreman, 28, Wallington Herst, 36, and Raymond Lewis, 29. A fourth man, unidentified, was being sought.

Federal agents want to quiz the trio in connection with an alleged nation-wide black market in stolen and bogus sugar ration stamps.

Local police are holding them for investigation of armed robbery and assault, charging them with beating and burning a man "to make him talk."

Gives Account

Det. Lieut. Walter Coe gave this account:

The trio had been tipped that Broadway Arrington, 23, Chicago tavern operator under indictment by a federal grand jury there on OPA violation charges, had a $38,000 cache concealed in a toolbox when he recently visited his father, George Arrington, 53, at the latter's home here.

Foreman claimed that Broadway Arrington obtained the money in illicit sugar coupon dealings.

The three came here from Chicago Sunday morning and went to the rooming house where the father lived, herded 15 other roomers into an upstairs room at gunpoint and demanded to know the son's whereabouts and where the reported money was hidden.

Arrington replied that he did not know where his son was and said he knew nothing of the reported cache.

Ransack Building

The three men then ransacked the building in their search while their driver waited outside. They bound Arrington to a chair, beat him on the head with a gun butt and a lead pipe and burned strips of paper under his bare feet in an effort to make him talk.

A woman roomer slipped out of the house and called police, who arrested Foreman and Lewis less than a block away and Hearst stop a railroad freight car. The driver got away.

Two special OPA agents here from Chicao, E. T. Cleary and Frank Milligan, said Broadway Arrington was one of the leaders of the alleged sugar ring.

He was one of 28 persons indicted in Chicago Feb. 25. Fifty-four persons have been indicted in all. District Attorney J. Albert Woll said the ring disposed of enough stamps to divert at least 7,000,000 pounds of sugar from authorized sales channels.

Woll and other Chicago officials plan to subpoena the three for questioning by the grand jury. They also have asked Grand Rapids police to search for the reported money cache.

Sugar Stamp Good For Ten Pounds, Effective April 1

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10—The office of temporary controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 in OPA family ration books will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's changeover from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp, No. 53, good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

Stamp No. 11 will be good through Sept. 30 but OPA said a second stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated July 1 providing sugar imports meet expectations.

OPA officials said it is possible that still another 10 pounds, bringing the year's total for household users to 35, may be made available Sept. 30.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular home and canning use. No sepatate stamps will be used for canning. Last year household users got 15 pounds of sugar for regular use and 10 for home canning.

Soaring Wheat Prices Hit U.S. Consumers as Bread Costs Rise

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 10—Soaring wheat prices were hitting the consumer today with bread undergoing hikes in several cities throughout the country.

Bread, the traditional staff of life, has been raised from a cent to three cents a loaf in many of the nation's major grain terminals brings the highest prices since 1920.

An Atlanta grocery concern with several retail stores announced the sharpest advance reported, a three-cent boost to 17 cents for a 24-ounce loaf. In New York, New England, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Mich., Cleveland, Indianapolis, Ind., and Los Angeles the consumers already have been tagged for a cent or two more on each loaf.

A baker spokesman at Minneapolis has warned consumers there to brace themselves for a one-cent boost, which, he added, would cover only a small portion of the increased costs of ingredients and other production charges.

In Chicago, a wholesale bakery representative said he was "afraid" a price hike would be necessary soon.

In Canada the wheat board raised its price of wheat for export to countries other than Great Britain 5 cents a bushel, effective today. The new price is $2.80 a bushel, highest since September, 1920.

Mills were scouring the country for the grain. Texas and Oklahoma mills were reported searching for wheat in the spring wheat territory of the northwest, while 15 cents.

mills in that area were having difficulty in obtaining the grade and quality desired.

In the past seven weeks wheat has soared around 50 cents a bushel. Flour prices have been hiked in line with the wheat advance. Bread had escaped until today because bakers were using flour purchased before the current advance started.

Purchases of wheat and flour by government agencies for shipment to food deficit areas abroad were considered primarily responsible by grain experts for the sharp price advance. Box car shortages were believed to be a contributing factor.

Shipments of wheat and flour abroad in the 12 months ended June 30 will total 350,000,000 bushels, a report by President Truman's cabinet committee on the world food program stated last week. Corn and other grains also are being shipped.

O.K. LILIENTHAL FOR TOP U. S. ATOMIC POST

Senate Group Reports Favorably with Only Bricker Opposing.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10—The senate atomic energy committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Bacher and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) cast the only vote against Lilienthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tenessee Valley Authority.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) and Vandenberg (R-Mich), who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

Go To Senate Floor

All the names now go to the senate floor for consideration.

Connally was recorded only on the Lilienthal nomination. Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the Texas senator explained he did not know enough about the other nominees to cast a vote for them.

Bacher, Strauss and Waymack were approved by a vote of 8 to 0, with Connally abstaining.

Pike and Wilson were approved by a vote of 6 to 2, with Connally not voting and Bricker and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) opposing confirmation.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), committee chairman, said he would report the committee's recommendations to the senate this afternoon.

"I shall make every effort to get the matter up at the termination of the pending business," he told reporters at the end of the 37-minute closed session.

Earlier Senator Wherry (R-Neb), Republican whip, forecast a delay in senate action on the nominations. He told a reporter that he has made no allowances in the legislative schedule for floor debate on the appointments until some legislation is out of the way.

Debating Presidential Limit

The senate is debating a proposed constitutional amendment setting a two-term limit on the presidency.

Hickenlooper said the printed record of the five-week hearings will be available Thursday. The nominations have been before the committee since Jan. 20, but hearings did not start until Jan. 27.

A bitter floor fight on the Lilienthal nomination appeared inevitable as Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), long a political foe of the former TVA chief, promised "the damndest fight the senate ever saw."

Most senators appeared to believe that debate might run for three weeks because both opponents and proponents will seek to convince many members who remain undecided how to vote.

The roll call on the Lilienthal nomination:

For — Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich), Millikan (R-Colo), Knowland (R-Calif), Johnson, (D-Colo), McMahan (D-Conn), Russell (D-Ga) and Connally (D-Tex).

Against—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio).

Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Lewis Opposes U. S. Motion To Speed Coal Mandate Operation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers today opposed a government request that the supreme court issue immediately an order carrying out its decision of last Thursday in the coal strike case.

The court upheld contempt convictions of Lewis and the UMW for disregarding a U. S. district order against last fall's coal strike.

It sustained a $10,000 fine against Lewis and reduced from $3,500,000 to $700,000 one against the union.

Imposes Condition

The highest tribunal directed that the original amount of the fine against the union should be reimposed unless Lewis withdraw a notice to the government that the union was terminating its contract to mine coal.

Lewis was ordered to withdraw the termination order within five days after the high court's mandate was turned to the district court. Ordinarily, it requires about 25 days for the mandate (court decision) to reach the lower court.

Since the miners are under instructions from Lewis to work only until March 31, Attorney General Clark filed with the court last week a motion to make the mandate effective immediately.

Clark said he feared that unless this were done there might be a strike March 31.

Ask Normal Procedure

Opposing the motion, counsel for Lewis and the union filed with the supreme court a petition saying "the public interest will not in any manner be adversely affected by allowing the normal and reasonable time for consideration and preparation of a petition for rehearing."

The petition said that the supreme court's opinions last Thursday "presented many diverse and intricate problems of law."

"Justice requires that a reasonable time be allowed for consideration and analysis of these decisions," the union attorneys added.

They asserted that refusal to allow the union additional time to consider the opinions and plan their next move would be "prejudicial to the rights" of Lewis and the union.

Clark and union counsel are to present their requests orally before the court this afternoon.

There was no indication whether the court would act immediately. Some court attaches said the justices might take the motions under consideration and announce their ruling later.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSE TAGS GO ON SALE

Rush Reported by Deputy Registrar as Office Opens.

Marion automobile owners jammed into the auto license bureau in the Ardrey Motor Sales building at 264 North Main street today as the sale of 1947 Ohio automobile license plates began here and throughout the state.

When the office opened at 8:30 a. m. more than 25 car owners were waiting to purchase their tags W. C. Bailey, auto license deputy registrar for Marion, estimated 8,500 sets of tags would be sold during the next two weeks. The new plates, green with white numerals, may be exhibited today and must be on all vehicles by April 1. For the first time since the war two tags will be used this year.

Nine workers were assisting at the auto license bureau today to handle the early rush in business, brought on by car owners seeking to buy low numbers, Mr Bailey said. First set of plates sold this morning, Q-51, went to G. F Dominy of 197 York street.

The license bureau office will be open throughout the remainder of March from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. each day except Sunday.

Auto license plates also were being sold in six other communities in the county. Other deputy registrars are: Caledonia, Mrs. S. T. Doyle: Green Camp, William McNeal; LaRue, Mrs. May E. Blazer; Morral, Charles D. Faurot; Prospect, F. W. Gehm and Waldo, Mrs. Geneva Healea.

The fights will get under way at Marion armory at 8 p. m.

FOREMEN GET COURT BACKING

High Tribunal Rules Bosses Must Bargain with Supervisors' Unions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10—The supreme court ruled today that employers must bargain with foremen's unions.

The ruling was made on an appeal by the Packard Motor Company of Detroit from a national labor relations board decision. The company contended foremen were not employes within the meaning of the Wagner labor relations act.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's 5-to-4 decision.

Douglas Writes Dissent

Justice Douglas wrote a dissent in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Burton concurred. Frankfurter also dissented from the majority although not concurring entirely in the views Douglas expressed for the minority.

For the majority, Jackson said: "The context of the (labor relations) act, we think, leaves no room for a construction of the section (involved in this case) to deny the organizational privilege to employes because they act in the interest of an employer.

"Every employe from the very fact of employment in the master's business, is required to act in his interest."

The question of whether foremen have the same status as other employes under the fair labor standards act is one that has long been an issue of industry.

Bill Before Congress

Among the new labor laws currently being discussed in congress are proposed to exempt foremen from the law.

The NLRB act guarantees workers the right to organize and bargain collectively with their employers.

Today's ruling was the supreme court's first on the issue. The labor board has deferred decisions on other foremen's cases pending this decision.

The ruling was the court' interpretation of the intent of congress on the question when it passed the Wagner labor relations act in 1935.

C. AND O. TO BUILD COAL FIELD TAP LINE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., March 10—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway announced today plans to construct a 22.5-mile rail line to tap a 200,000,000-ton coal field in Floyd, Knott and Letcher counties, Ky.

President Robert J. Bowman said the contract for grading, masonry and drainage on the project had been awarded to the Codell Construction Co. of Winchester, Ky.

Under the authorization granted by the interstate commerce commission for the work last Jan. 24, it must be started by May 1 this year and completed before Sept. 1, 1948.

The line, to serve a 58-square mile area in which the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. has large holdings, will extend south from Wayland, Ky., from the railway's Elkhorn-Beaver valley subdivision, to a point near the forks of Indian creek.

Pittsburgh Consolidation owns some 35,000 acres of coal lands in Knott and Letcher counties, and according to the application for the line filed with the ICC, will construct a tipple near the mouth of Razor Blade branch of Rock House creek, Letcher county.

Coal mining engineers estimate that production in the newly-developed field should rise to 2,000,000 tons annually within 10 years.

MARSHALL TO PUSH FOR PACT OF ALLIANCE

Sure Only of Bevin's Support for Treaty Aimed at Germany.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 10—Secretary of State Marshall gave a new push today to the United States proposal for a four-power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only Britain's Ernest Bevin as the foreign ministers council met in snow-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

The ministers opened the momentous session with little ceremony as a snowstorm swirled over this capital of the Russias.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France was reported to be agreeing tentatively to support the four-power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He insisted that the other parts must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a weak central government and a low level of industrial production.

To Follow Byrnes Plan

Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the German disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevin is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

Marshall disclosed that he had stressed the importance of the pact in his stopover at Paris, but French sources said France would be able to agree to the proposal only to the conditions mentioned.

The secretary of state declined to speculate on the length of the Moscow meeting. Authoritative informants said, however, that Marshall was prepared to stay here as long as necessary to make real progress—assuming the first two or three weeks prove progress is possible.

The ministers drove over snow-covered streets to the meeting place, the house of the Soviet aviation industry, two miles from the Kremlin. A handful of curious Russians saw them.

Marshall was the first to arrive, reaching the building about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to open at 5 p. m. (9 a. m. eastern standard time.) Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith accompanied Marshall.

The next in was Bidault.

The grinding of movie cameras attracted various Russians, including workers who were cleaning the street with snow removal equipment.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinsky, arrived together. They apparently were the only one of the four-power group recognized by the spectators, who broke into a wave of handclapping. Molotov nodded curtly.

The last to to arrive was Bevin, who passed almost unnoticed between a few policemen on hand to keep back the crowds.

Marshall announced just before the meeting that he would press for agreement on a four-power treaty to keep Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

From the absence of ceremony it was apparent that the Russians wanted to impress upon everyone the "businesslike" character of the conference.

Few Decorations Out

The only decorations outside the building were two sets of small flags of the United States, Britain, France and Russia bunched on each side of the door.

The scene contrasted sharply with the pageantry and color of Paris and New York, where earlier meetings of the foreign ministers were held.

Among the arrivals were F. T. Gousev and Gen. Mark W. Clark Russian and American deputies for Austria. The presence of Marshall Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet administrator of Germany, was a surprise to the other delegations. The commanders in chief of the other countries in Germany were left on the job there.

In an outline of the French position, a French official source said the German question was so vital that France could not act as a negotiator between the Russians on one side and British and Americans on the other, but must present a concrete program of her own.

Can't Play Role Now

"During the Paris conference (over the treaties of Axis satellites), when France's vital issues were not at stake," the informant said, "we could afford to suggest compromises and act as negotiators, but in the German questions we have our own interests which must come first."

Some French proposals may serve as a bridge between the east and the west, but others may be

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text "Then said Jesus unto His disciples, If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me.'

"For whosoever will save his life shall lose it and whosoever will lose his life for My Sake shall find it." Matthew 16 24, 25.

Christ both carried His cross, and was crucified upon it for our salvation. He came down from the throne to go up on the cross We must do likewise if we are to honor and obey Him. In your life there is both a throne and a cross Most people have self on the throne and Christ on the cross. God's will is that Christ shall be on the throne and self on the cross of your life.

Like the Jews of Jesus' day, we too are often more ready to see a triumphant leader than we are to front a crucified Lord Others of us who revere His cross are unwilling to bear our own cross and to be crucified. The frank and tender Jesus says, "Not only shall I, the Christ, die in order that men may live, but My followers, let them 'follow Me'."

"Forbid it, Lord, that I should dread
To suffer shame or loss.
O let me in Thy footsteps tread,
And glory in Thy cross"

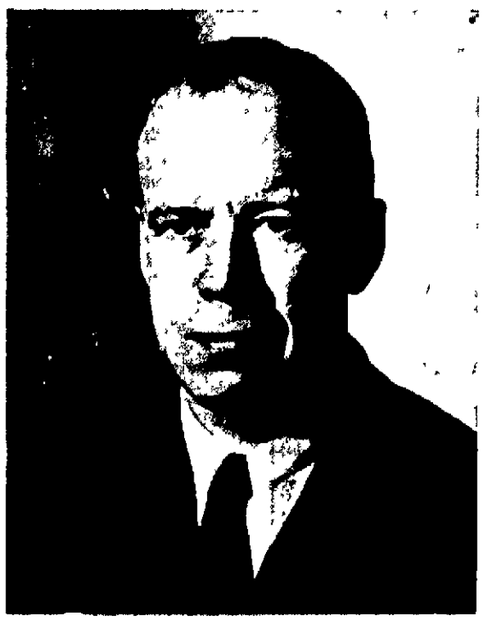
A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF WAR



How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

WITH the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety and our duty to promote world peace—all are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for training in valuable skills at Army schools.

It is a high tribute to the loyalty and spirit of the American soldier that two out of every three men in the present Army are veterans—men who have known the hardships of war and have chosen to continue their service.

A job in the new Regular Army is a good job—a job that compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most.

You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily—to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure.

Chickcharneys Almost Lost War for Allies

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 10—If you want to know who really licked the Allies the war, it turned out the terrible curse of the chickcharneys—Bahama's tree-dwelling gnomes of the Irish leprechauns.

They put a fearsome hex on Neville Chamberlain, those terrible little men, when the late prime minister was a youth managing his father's sisal plantation on Andros, largest Bahamian island.

Hal Boyle

Andros is the home of the legendary chickcharney—a three-foot, three-eyed, white-furred men and women with diabolic powers who live in trees and hate to be disturbed.

They range from 12 to 18 inches in height, have pink fixed and staring eyes, long noses that hang over toothless and almost chinless mouths, and the men sport flame-red beards. They are sun worshipers and rise and set with the sun.

Rummy-Eyed Witness Report

A half-Seminole native, the only man known ever to have observed their ritual and lived, awoke near sunset one day and peering through a bush that cloaked him, saw this scene:

Thousands of chickcharneys carrying snakes to hundreds of small burning pots in the beach, where the reptiles were cooked in their stews. At a signal from their leader the little men raced into the sea and bathed.

Scrubbed clean, they ran back and annointed their bodies with snake oil from the boiling pots to make them supple. Then they put on their clothing—an almond leaf in front, another almond leaf behind, and a straw headdress. Each had a small bow to hunt fish and game. Over the right shoulder hung their quiver full of small arrows and over the left was slung a conch shell.

Tiny Tarzans Disappear

They lined up in formation, chanted a hymn and blew a long salute on the conch horns to the sun just as it sank below the horizon. As the elfin music faded the chickcharneys leaped into the trees, swinging like tiny Tarzans from limb to limb, and disappeared.

Natives believe that if they glimpse a chickcharney and avert their head and walk away, nothing will happen. But if you bump into one suddenly face to face, there is only one way to avert the little British colonial gremlin's evil rage. That is to press the thumb and little finger tightly into the palm and hold up your nine. The chickcharney sees only the three fingers and lets you pass, assuming you are a human being just like himself.

Chamberlain, the legend goes, incurred their anger in this wise:

He was building a railroad across his plantation. A large tree believed by superstitious natives to be a favorite haunt of the chickcharneys was in the path. The natives refused to cut it down.

"Lookin' For Trubble"

"Boss man he lookin' fer trubble," said an old granny.

Chamberlain impatiently imported a crew of men from Nassau who chopped down the tree and built the railroad across its site. The chickcharneys, natives say, immediately laid a lifelong curse upon him. Soon after the plantation failed and Chamberlain returned to England.

Many years later Old Man Mose, on a visit to Nassau, heard about the Second World War. The news hadn't penetrated to the swamps of his native Andros. When Old Mose learned Chamberlain was prime minister he said:

"Den we gon' lose dis war. Duh chickcharneys don't like dat man."

Sometime later Old Mose was informed that Winston Churchill was in power. Much relieved, he opined:

"Now we gonna win. Duh chickcharneys hab'n enny grudge 'gin him. Dat'll save us."

And sure enough the Allies did win. And do you know what happened to the rusted steel rails of Chamberlain's abandoned railroad? They were dug up and sent to Britain as wartime scrap metal.

The chickcharneys are free again to hide in the foliage and worship the sun as before.

MISS ELEANORE BROWNE, a bride-elect of Sunday, March 16, was complimented when Mrs. Walter E. Hane of 418 East Church street entertained with a tea Sunday afternoon at her home. Appointments were carried out in aqua and pink, Miss Browne's chosen colors. Centering the table which was laid with a lace cloth was a five branch silver candelabra which held lighted white tapers. Surrounding the base was a low hollow oval bowl in which were pink and white carnations, blue iris and white hyacinths. Serving were Mrs. L. B. McNeal and Mrs. E. G. Siefert. The honored guest was presented a gift from the hostess. Miss Browne's marriage to Robert G. Stafford will take place at 4 o'clock Sunday in the First Presbyterian church.

Before Miss Browne left Oxford where she was enrolled as a student at Western College for Women she was complimented with a surprise kitchen shower given by Miss Dorothy Davis and Miss Carol Grant in Mary Lyon hall parlor. "Best Wishes" was sung when she entered the room and she found her gifts on a large table near the open fireplace. Her gifts, wrapped in her wedding colors of pink and aqua, held original rhymes. Miss Virginia Messer sang "Always" and "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Jane Morrow. Refreshments were served from a long table set in one of the bay windows and lighted with tall tapers. Guests included Miss Browne, Misses Ellen Newberg, Josephine Moore, Mary Jane Morrow, Mary Ann Morse, Beth Wagner, Maxine Shelton, Priscilla Murray, Suzanne Gillette, Kathryn Brunbaum, Joanne Bobrink, Joan Joslyn, Margaret Robison, Anne Waterfield, Dorothy Nisen, Elizabeth Walton, Virginia Thomas, Dorothy James, Virginia Messer, Nancy Clee, and Myrna Jo Gavin and Mrs. Estella Bennett, housemother of Mary Lyon hall.

Those honored were Mrs. Henry Lauer of Green Camp, cousin of Mr. Parratt, Mrs. D. P. Alspach, Mrs. S. Lober, mother of Mrs. Parratt, and also Mrs. Parratt. Covers were placed for 10 at a table centered with a large birthday cake on top of which were written the names of the four honored guests. Lighted candles at either end of the table completed the decorations.

15 COUNTIES BACK MAUMEE PROJECT

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., March 10—Backers of a project to set up the Maumee watershed conservancy district reported today the plan had the support of city and county officials in the 15 northwestern Ohio counties expected to benefit from control of the Maumee river's flood waters.

County commissioners said a formal petition to create a district authority, patterned after Ohio's famous Miami conservancy district would be filed within the next two weeks in Defiance county common pleas court.

Defiance county commissioners are collaborating with commissioners of 14 other counties in the project—Paulding, Williams, Fulton, Henry, Putnam, Allen, Van Wert, Auglaize, Hancock, Lucas, Wood, Mercer, Shelby and Hardin.

The petition would call for appointment of a board of three commissioners for the district by a conservancy court of 15 judges, one from each of the counties.

U. S. Army engineers who made a survey of the Maumee valley recommended to state and local officials creation of a Maumee watershed authority to enable the federal government to deal with one organization in helping develop the project.

Few Major Bills Before Legislature This Week

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 10—Few bills of major importance were due to come up for a vote in the Ohio legislature during the tenth week of session which opens tonight.

Most of the current week's activity is expected to concentrate in committee hearings, while the legislators delay voting on major measures until after Gov. Thomas J. Herbert presents his biennial budget. He has promised to do this about March 15.

During the nine weeks of labor thus far, only two bills have been sent to the governor for his approval.

The senate and house each have two bills to consider tonight. The only one of which may be considered of any major importance seeks to terminate the emergency contributions of one-tenth to one per cent of war-time payrolls for unemployment compensation. The bill has been passed by the senate.

Two Misgivings

CONTRARY to their critics, who are accusing the American people of muffing a rendezvous with destiny unless they accept full responsibility for British foreign policy, there are at least two legitimate misgivings about such a decision.

Power politics isn't what it was when Britain maintained a balance of power by throwing its support to the weaker side in Europe. When the British were masters of that technique—and perhaps they still are—they acted as a third party. The United States in 1947 is not a third party. It is one of the two main parties. Soviet Russia is the other. This nation is part of the power to be balanced, not the balancer

Americans properly think of the British as inheritors of the tradition of individual freedom and therefore as allies in the struggle against statism. But Americans would be less than acute if they did not perceive that an apparent majority of Britons no longer share responsibility for the struggle against economic dictatorship, which is the introduction to statism. The plain fact is that Britain is playing off one great power against another, making amiable gestures toward Russian communism with one hand while reaching for United States loans with the other. The British have compromised their own good faith as allies of the United States. This is not to be critical of Great Britain, but only to suggest that in order to deal with it the United States should acknowledge what is obvious. In a word, Americans would be foolish not to have some misgivings about British intent in asking the United States to assume responsibility for its foreign policy in Greece, for example. It isn't necessary to agree with Henry A. Wallace's recommendation for appeasing Russia to admit that he was more than half right in warning against becoming responsible for Britain's policies in the Middle East. The United States has enough troubles of its own, without standing sponsor for British mistakes. If it is to go to the rescue of Greece, it should do so on its own terms, not as the inheritor of British error.

The second misgiving concerns money. The United States is like an heiress who never can be sure whether she is being admired for herself or her wealth. In the United States, furthermore, are many persons so sure that Americans are universally loved that they try to show their appreciation by bestowing billions of dollars wherever and whenever requested. This passion for profligacy is indulged under various excuses; the current one is that America is saving the world from communism.

It is doubtful if the United States can save the world from communism by romping lightheartedly into national bankruptcy. If this country now must keep a rendezvous with destiny, it would do well to button up its money pocket.

Those Danbury Hatters

THE Supreme Court's decision in the United Mine Workers litigation is called "another Danbury Hatters case," which stirs memories of that 15-year battle in the courts

In 1902, 250 employes of the Danbury, Conn., hat firm of Loewe & Co. were called out on strike to enforce closed shop demands, and a secondary boycott was instituted against sellers of Loewe's products.

The company sued for damages under the Sherman Act. The union maintained that hats were not the subject of interstate commerce before they left the factory or while being distributed to customers in other states, and that there was no interference with their transportation between states.

The union was upheld by the lower courts but by 1908 the case had reached the supreme court which reversed the lower courts. On its instructions a jury fixed damages and costs at $232,000. About $70,000 was obtained by attaching the savings of union members and in 1917 a decree was signed directing the sale of the homes of 140 union members for the remainder of the judgment. Before the sales were made, however, the A. F. of L. came forward with $165,000 to close the case.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Cost of Living in Sweden Really Comes High.

WASHINGTON, March 10 — A classic inside report on Sweden has come into my hands. It concerns the developing, covered-over economic perils in the little nation of six million which exists by its wits at the very tip of the cat's whisker, constantly escaping from being devoured.

"We escaped both the Nazis and their war by some clever political and economic manipulations, maintaining our freedom and independence," says this private analysis, "but can we elude the pressure pursuers now among us?"

"A cabinet minister's wife said in a speech recently to an audience of university students: 'We have succeeded practically in wiping out the moneyed upper class, but a new danger must be met in a new upper class, the intellectually gifted. The norm must be set on the level of the least gifted, or we will have a new and more subtle rule of the few.'"

"Here is advocated the triumph of ignorance, the supremacy of inadequacy, revolutionary conquest by the least capable. I am glad to say she was booed by the students, but she might have been booed if she had addressed a less educated group. She claims to be an educational expert who has gained most of her ideas in America, although her ideas bear a stamp of nationality easily discernible and not associated, as far as my experience can fathom, in any connection with any nations on the American continents.

An "Infamous Pact"

"Now you may say she is merely a women speaking without appreciation of her surroundings or authority, but her husband, as a cabinet minister, made the infamous trade agreement with Russia which will enslave the commerce of Sweden for the next five years, taking all our exportable production, if not more than we can spare, isolating us commercially from other nations of the world. There will be little enough left for domestic trade and absolutely nothing for foreign markets. We shall have to import at higher prices for home consumption, articles which we could produce at more reasonable cost, if we had not bound ourselves with this agreement.

"The people who have worked and taken chances to get ahead are to be squashed. There never can be one standard of living for everyone without it being the downfall of everyone. And when that is accomplished, no one will be happy.

"The younger generation almost unanimously wishes to get out of the country, which has become so socialistic it is practically living under a dictatorship. There is no chance for personal initiative any longer in this nation which has been considered as something of a model around the world in the past. Everything is so controlled that it saps ambition. And the new taxes are impoverishing private initiative.

Unions Powerful

"When a conservative member of parliament criticized the new tax laws in Riksdagen last week, the finance minister said: 'That is how the labor unions want it, and it is they who have the power.' The new inheritance tax makes it impossible to leave anything for your children. I tried to write over our farm to our sons before the law went through, but discovered that the law was retroactive for five years. Such a thing is unprecedented despotism. If I should die the boys probably would have to borrow to pay up the mortgage and inheritance taxes, and instead of getting a few thousand kroner, they would be in debt. And we cannot sell the farm because no farmer wants to buy property. As an owner he would have such a large property and income tax he would have nothing left to live on. The industrial labor organizations are killing farming in Sweden. It isn't even profitable to own your own home, for the authorities count as your income the rent you would have to pay if you rented the house you own.

These Are Real Taxes

"My son's income is 30,000 kroner a year which would have been excellent 10 years ago. A lawyer advised us that under the tax system starting this year, we shall have to pay nearly half or 14,000 kroner in taxes Our rentals with heating go to about 3,000. Our other son living in Stockholm costs us about 5,000. Light, telephone and gas run about 400, and I must reckon 100 kr. per person per month for food. There is not much left for insurance, clothes, tuition and school books, doctors and dentists. A maid is out of the question for me, as she would cost 2,500 kroner. (This means a person on a farm can hardly live and cannot employ a servant in this formerly low-price country although earning $7,500 a year.)

"No wonder the young men want to leave. We will all be getting out as soon as we can."

My conclusion from this plain evidence is this:

Russia does not need an army to conquer Sweden. All she needs is a few more Swedes like the commerce minister who will drain from the country the economic profits of the war to send to Russia and simultaneously sap and sack the country by taxation and denials of opportunity for advancement.

Just a Minute

Can Congress Mix Midnight And Banana Oil?

Faced with an ever-lengthening agenda, the senate today begins holding night sessions twice a week.

This news doubtless will necessitate considerable explaining to congressional wives who have been led to believe them normal procedure.

To be sure, it will not be the first time laws have been passed under cover of darkness. But it is reassuring that, in this instance, at least the capitol electricians will be able to throw some light on the subject.

Moreover, having devoted so much of the current session to consideration of restrictive labor legislation, one does not believe the senators will have the heart to seek time and a half for overtime.

Of course, congress is not paid by the hour. Although it couldn't be moving any slower if it were. It's been more than two months now since it convened and you can count its accomplishments on the toes of a sloth.

Still, I doubt that night sessions will prove the answer .. Congressmen have enough trouble staying awake in the daytime.

O.S.U. Dean Cites U. S. Dependency on Science.

By EARL BERKLEY
Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON, March 10—Ohio State university's dean of engineering is sure that scientific education and politics won't mix.

Also chief of the university's engineering experimental station, Charles Ellison MacQuigg of Columbus, wants congress to toss partisanship out the window before acting on legislation to create a National Science foundation.

Other observations he made as a witness before the house commerce committee:

Such a foundation is necessary to regain ground lost in research during the war, and

Existing agencies are unable to do the postwar job.

Looking more like a businessman than the learned engineer that he is, MacQuigg has a geniation of experience in his field behind him.

During the war, he was a member of the national defense research committee and a regional adviser of engineering, science and management war training. Before that he was chairman of the Engineering College Research Association on Legislation, since merged with the American Society for Engineering Education.

MacQuigg agreed with Secretary of War Patterson's assertion to the committee that the "scientific resources of the entire nation are now necessary for security," but he went further.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton wants the senate-house budget conference committee, of which he is a member, to guard against hurried action.

The committee was named to reconcile differences between the house and senate over President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1. With Jenkins' support, the house lopped $6,000,000,000 off the budget. The senate cut it by $4,500,000,000.

Jenkins won't predict what the conferees will do but he told a reporter he wants careful consideration and no haste.

Member of the tax-writing house ways and means committee, Jenkins said the conferees intended to withhold comment until the tough job is done.

"While I am in favor of a $6,000,000,000 reduction," he said, "I do not know what amount will be decided upon by the conference committee, once it gets into the task."

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester was on the speaking program of the annual advertising award dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Friday night.

He also has two speaking engagements next week—before the Rotary club of Washington on Wednesday and at a Republican rally at Harrisburg, Pa., Thursday.

Cold Cash Comfy In a Hot Bank

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY—Patrolman R. C. Williams hurriedly placed a call for reinforcements after he thought he heard a blow torch being used in the dead of night at the Oklahoma National bank. With guns drawn and silently entering the bank, the officers confronted a steam boiler that had become overheated. Excessive pressure escaping sounded like a blow torch.

AT THE DIKE

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, March 10, 1937.

Attorney General Cummings, in a speech before the senate judiciary committee, pleaded for adoption of President Roosevelt's court bill as a means of injecting "new blood" into the judiciary to avoid a "tortured construction of the constitution." Before the Storm

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON, March 10—This is the lull before the storm. The signs now are that President Truman will attempt a piecemeal approach to the world crisis, asking now only for enough funds to meet the emergency in Greece and Turkey. He is under double pressure to do so from Capitol Hill, where his advisers wish to avoid a knockdown, dragout fight; and from Greece, where the need is so urgent that promptness of congressional action is of high importance. Very likely, the piecemeal approach will succeed this time. Even Senator Robert A. Taft, who is certainly not internationally minded, is inclined to admit the importance of doing something about Greece.

The important thing to note, however, is that President Truman's and Secretary of State George C. Marshall's White House presentation recently was by no means confined to Greece. They described not merely a Greek crisis, but a world crisis. If the President chooses now to ask only for the few hundreds of millions needed for Greece and Turkey, he will simply have to go to congress later on for more funds for other areas. The issue of whether or not this country is going to assume its responsibilities in the world will have to be met squarely, and met at this session of congress.

Forces Appraised

That is why this period is the lull before the storm. Under the circumstances it is not a bad idea to take stock of the relative strength of the groups and personalities whose lot it will be to fight the issue to a finish.

First of all it is no longer news that the President himself is gaining strength. The polls have now powerfully confirmed the predictions made in this space and elsewhere. He may now be said to have the Republicans on the defensive. He will increase their disadvantage when he eventually poses the world issue—as he must do—in terms of the survival or non-survival of this country. A vote for economy and suicide has a certain bleak lack of political appeal.

Second, the modern-minded Republicans are also gaining strength. A month ago, Senator Taft was struggling to prevent an extreme labor bill The Ball-Taft-Smith proposals looked moderate in comparison with the drastic action many senators were calling for. Senator Taft is now laboring to form a united front of his adherents But Senator Irving Ives of New York, who has not been invited to join this front, is reported to be planning a revision of the Wagner act much more limited than anything Taft can approve. Furthermore, there are rumors that Senator Alexander Smith is tending toward the Ives view, and that when the issue comes to the floor, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg will be found on Ives's side of the fence.

Change Indicated

The foregoing, of course, is merely indicative of the slight but significant change of atmosphere which is taking place. There are other straws in the wind also. For instance, Senator Wallace White of Maine, the official Republican leader, is understood to have been deeply impressed with the gravity of the world crisis at the White House presentation. His tendency therefore will be to support really bold action—which will mean that he will be leaning toward the modernists and away from the conservatives for the first time.

If Truman and the Republican modernists are both gaining strength, then the Republican conservatives, who are the third factor in the equation, are growing weaker. And this is undoubtedly true, as any one can tell who listens to talk in the Capitol lobbies and corridors.

Add it all up, and the result is of course fuzzy and confused. For example, the phenomena noted above have not reduced the quite genuine pressure on congress for tax cuts. Yet the tax cut clamor is balanced by the sobriety of congressional reaction to the Greek crisis. These contradictions are inevitable.

Amid the confusion, however, the broad trend is plain. The ultra-conservatives, who are also the isolationists, are losing ground. On the question of the world crisis, there is no reason why President Truman and the Republican modernists cannot reach full agreement. The fight ahead will be hard. It may split the Republican party far worse than it is split already. But the advocates of economy and suicide cannot at present hope to impose this disastrous program upon the country when the chips are down.

Boycotts Cigarets

By The Associated Press

RANGOON, Burma — A mass meeting of Rangoon citizens has launched a movement to boycott the smoking of cigarets, in an effort to protect the home tobacco processing industry.

Burma produces no cigarets, converting its tobacco only into cigars and pipe tobacco.

The meeting was called by persons alarmed at the growing appetite for American and British cigarets, which sell at fantastic prices.

Three Buddhist priests were appointed to direct the boycott.

Burmese men and women are inveterate smokers. Boys usually start to smoke at the age of seven.

Horses and Hollywood

Even Horses go to Hollywood now to get into the big money. The other day Louis B. Mayer, famous movie mogul, put his skinners up at public auction and they brought over a million and a half dollars. And that, in Hollywood, is hay.

Half a million dollars worth of Mayer's horses were bought by Harry M. Warner of Warner Brothers. He evidently wants to prove that he is so rich he can afford to worry as much as any Hollywood competitor.

Warner paid the highest price of the sale, $200,000 for Stepfather. To put that much dough into a horse he must plan to produce not only a movie called "Stepfather," but a "Son of Stepfather."

Sam Goldwyn didn't buy a horse. He figures that he can develop hay fever an easier way

What we can't understand is why those Hollywood producers are so interested in horses. Only two talking horses have ever been developed. "Neither of 'em could say "Yes."

The effect on race horse auction all over America may be terrific. There never has been such color and showmanship. The sale was held in the moonlight, with thousands of glamorous personalities filling the boxes and promenading around the plant. It had everything but music and dancing The movie picture atmosphere hung over everything. Even the horseflies had glamour.

Here for the first time in Hollywood history a stranger could attend an event and not be sure whether he wanted a movie star or a horse to autograph his program

There was one decided novelty about the Hollywood horse auction. It was the only spectacle ever produced out there without a half-hour wasted on credit lines. When a horse was put up only his father and mother were mentioned as responsible

They just gave the name of the sire The assistant sire, the assistant to the assistant sire the sire in charge of musical arrangements and the sire responsible for dialogues weren't mentioned.

General Marshall is off to the Moscow conference and it is an encouraging sign that at no time has he asked what the Russian word for "Yes" was.

A big time New York gambler, and "fixer," while serving as a trusty at Bellevue, made trips to Broadway as he liked and conducted his operations from Bellevue, it is testified This explains why some people confused the term "Bellevue shift" with a football formation

There is now talk of boosting the postal rates again. One more boost and it will be foolish to go into a postoffice for a couple of stamps, hand in a dollar bill and expect any change.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew. At the risk of talking over your head, I want to tell you what is happening to human beings, so you can amaze your friends at parties

After studying the situation carefully and making copious notes on the density of the fuzz on caterpillars, the moss on trees and the frequency of bitter laughter—also making intricate calculations on the back of a school tablet with a pencil stub—I am prepared to state that human beings are fed up.

No one else can make that statement. No one else dares to make it, because everybody I can think of has something to lose if it is true The only reason I can make it is because it doesn't take any skin off my nose. Human beings are fed up with being kicked around, kidded, killed and let down hard on the payoff, which seems to come more frequently than it used to.

This is why it is darned near impossible any more to get people stirred up about anything a situation which bothers the big shots more than they like to admit. Remember during the war how Washington stewed and steamed because it was afraid the people weren't taking the war seriously enough? In the end, of course, everything came out all right, but it wasn't because people took the war seriously enough to suit Washington. It was because they went all-out for time and a-half, bonuses and a chance to put something in the old sock. Washington saw the light and shoveled out the cash. It was a triumph for the profit-incentive system, which really made the war effort tick.

Germany, which was all tuckered out, never did tick. Hitler had loused it up too bad The Germans didn't want the war at any price, and that's why they surrendered in droves whenever they got a chance. The Russians fought like fiends but they fought for Russia, not a government which had let them down by signing a treaty with Hitler, then proceeded to let them down still harder by terrorizing them while they were trying to make up for the government's stupidity with their courage. It's no puzzle to me why Russia dropped an iron curtain between itself and the world. The curtain is to keep the world from looking in. Russia has plenty to hide—stuff we'll find out about later.

The British, the French, the Spanish, the Chinese, Indians, maybe even the Scandinavians, for all I know, are in the same cynical mood. They've been fooled and flim-flammed so much they've no enthusiasm to waste on stuff thought up by birds with something to sell—mostly sudden death or starvation. Even the Japanese, those gullible little saps who will believe anything, are beginning to realize there's no percentage in being a sucker forever. And why am I telling you this, you want to know. For a simple reason, my deal relative.

Everybody is worrying about another war That includes me. But I am not worrying myself sick because there isn't a politician on earth today who doesn't know, if he knows anything at all, that the chances are .60-40 that if he started bellering in favor of war the people of his own country would nudge one another and mutter, "Look who wants us to die gloriously now." This world will have peace when people get smartened up enough to make it unprofitable for politicians to yammer about the joys of war—and we may be closer to peace than we realize.

We've been having a dilly of a blizzard up here—just what the groundhog ordered to make him look good. Your aunt sends regards and both of us want you to come see us whenever the mood strikes you. We'd come to see you, but the mood hasn't struck us lately.

RAILROAD ENGINEERS CONVENTION STARTS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 10—Some 260 delegates representing 81,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers assembled here today for their 10th triennial convention.

A number of questions concerning wages, working conditions and general welfare of brotherhood members will come before the convention, including the question of rules revision, which caused a brief railroad strike last year.

"Negotiations on the rules got as far as the emergency committee appointed by President Truman," said Alvanley Johnston, grand chief engineer. "Then he declared a moratorium on the rules issue for the year. That expires May 23."

When asked about the proposed merger with the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and enginemen, Johnston said:

"That has been talked about for 40 years. It has never gone beyond the talking stage. There probably will be some talk about it at the convention."

Johnston said he would speak some time during the convention on Robert R. Young's recently announced federation for railway progress and would discuss its probable effect on the brotherhood.

The convention, the brotherhood's first since 1942, will continue for 40 days, Johnston estimated.

Carey Man Dies In Truck Crash

Special to The Star

CAREY, March 10 — James B Kromer, 24, Carey resident, died in a hospital at Fostoria at 6 a. m. Saturday from burns which he suffered in a truck and tractor trailer crash near there about 1 a. m. The crash victim was identified at first as Harvey W. Oiler of Fostoria who recently sold the truck driven by Kromer. The license had not yet been transferred.

The accident happened at the intersection of U. S. routes 224 and 23. Kromer, in the quarter-ton pickup truck, was traveling south on route 23, and his vehicle collided with the tractor-trailer driven by Lewis H. Hawk, 31, of Lawrence, Ind., who was going west on the other road. When the truck hit the trailer its gasoline tank, in the front end of the vehicle, exploded. The resulting fire destroyed the truck which had been wedged under the trailer. After the crash, Hawk detached the tractor from the trailer hitched it onto the burning truck and pulled the smaller vehicle out from under the trailer. Only damage to his outfit, owned by the Anderson Motor Semi Co. of St. Louis, Mo., was burned tires.

An ambulance was called to take Kromer to the hospital where he was treated for third degree burns on his face and legs below the knees. Kromer lived at 202 North Lake street, Carey, was a veteran of World War II, and with a brother, Delmo Kromer of Fostoria, bought a garage near Fostoria about two weeks ago.

Born June 9, 1922, in Carey, he was a son of Cyril and Clara Jacquot Kromer. He was a member of Our Lady of Consolation Catholic church here and of the Eagles lodge. He was overseas two years in World War II.

Surviving are his mother, and, besides the brother with whom he was in business, these other brothers and sisters, Mrs. Genevieve Mathias of Alvada, Mrs. Arletta Dible and Mrs. Imogene Loudenslager, both of Carey, Bernard and Edwin Kromer, both at home, and Pvt. Ralph Kromer stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C. The father died May 2, 1944.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. in the Catholic church by Rev. Father Ambrose Finnegan. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery at Carey. The body was brought from the Harrolds funeral home in Fostoria to the Bristoll funeral home here.

TWO SAFE BLOWERS MAKE $40,000 HAUL

By The Associated Press

NEW STRAITSVILLE, O., March 10—Two safe blowers robbed Pearl Slaizer, New Straitsville garage owner, of $40,000 last night and one escaped in a gun fight with the town marshal.

Smith, said the sheriff, was captured by Marshal Charles Donley after he tripped in a ditch. He was unarmed.

A companion, however, disappeared into the darkness carrying a canvas sack containing what Mayor William Davis said was $40,000 in large bills, Sheriff Butts asserted.

The companion and Marshal Donley exchanged "five or six shots" as the bandits emerged from a rear door of the second floor apartment over Slaizer's garage. No one was hit apparently.

at odds with both, he said. He said the French would remain aloof on discussions of the economic unity of Germany "until we see whether the gulf between the east and the west" was going to widen or diminish.

In his first news conference in the Russian capital, Marshall also reaffirmed his stand on the Potsdam agreement as the basic policy for Germany.

Talks with French

Meeting the press at the Moskva hotel, the secretary disclosed that he had indicated to French officials during his stay in Paris "the importance of a treaty" to render Germany helpless for at least 40 years.

He declined to say in answer to a question whether Bidault, whom he saw for 45 minutes this morning, and Bevin, whom he saw yesterday, had promised their support.

Both Bidault and Bevin visited Marshall at Spasso house, home of the U. S. ambassador. The French and British leaders also have visited Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Marshall said he expected to see Molotov prior to the opening of the conference this afternoon.

Long, Wordy Battle Seen

Every indication was that peace with the beaten nations would not be made without long, wordy battles lasting for months—or even years.

Marshall, Bevin and Bidault have predicted ultimate success. But the weekly New Times, generally regarded as the voice of the Soviet foreign office, blasted U. S. and British policies on Germany and Austria and singled out three of Marshall's advisors for personal attack.

Privately, western diplomats expressed themselves as highly uncertain whether any real progress would be made in treaty drafting. East and west seemed mutually suspicious, each apparently believing the other to be maneuvering for control of Germany.

Russians Relax All Press Censorship

NEW YORK, March 10—The Russian government's telegraph and long distance telephone service worked without censorship for correspondents writing about the Moscow meeting of foreign ministers.

Eddy Gilmore, chief of The Associated Press bureau in Moscow, reported:

"To call the United States, Britain or France one had only to pick up the telephone and go through a little routine. To a correspondent who has been working here for five and a half years under censorship—except for 30 days back in 1945—it was a dream."

With relaxation of the censorship, dispatches from Russia to the United States were speeded up. News of the actual convening of the foreign ministers was received within a half hour, in contrast to the seven or eight hours required many times for dispatches filed in Moscow for the censor's perusal.

Surprise Witnesses Due at Liquor Inquiry

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 10—Surprise witnesses may be called today as the Ohio senate's liquor investigating committee resumes public hearings after a weekend recess.

The calling of these new witnesses, said a source close to the committee, rests on the outcome of a weekend of work by the committee's legal staff.

The hearing reconvenes today at 2 p. m.

Certain to be called today is Miss Minnie Thornton, head of the clerical staff of the state liquor department's permit division.

Committee Counsel Frank J. Collopy indicated Miss Thornton would be questioned on procedures by which Ohio taverns are licensed. She has been with the permit division for the last 13 years.

Ohio), chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee.

Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the house foreign affairs committee and Senator White (R-Maine), senate majority leader, were the first to show up and be taken into President Truman's office.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill), assistant senate minority leader, substituted for Democratic Leader Barkley, whose wife died two hours before the 10 a. m. conference.

The question was what course to follow in view of Britain's notification that the British government is no longer able to meet her financial commitments in Greece. The Greek government appealed to the United States for aid.

Any decision the President may announce after this meeting—either through a White House statement or a message to congress—apparently will involve future American policy not only towards Greece but towards Europe generally and possibly Asia as well.

With congress members widely guessing that Mr. Truman will ask for authority to extend aid short of military intervention, proposals increased that the United States avoid single-handed action by submitting the question of supporting King George's government to the United Nations.

Convict Escapes From Lima State Hospital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 10—Thomas Gibbs, 38, of Madisonville, Cincinnati, sawed a bar of his cell and escaped from Lima State hospital for the criminal insane Saturday night, the state welfare department disclosed today.

Gibbs was committed Jan. 5, 1945, for psychiatric treatment following his conviction on a burglary-larceny charge. He had previously served terms in Ohio penitentiary and the Mansfield reformatory.

Hospital Supt. R. E. Bushong said no trace of Gibbs had been uncovered.

Delaware originally was known as Cape de la Warr, in honor of Lord de la Warr, governor of Virginia.

FORCED ARBITRATION GIVEN INDORSEMENT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 10 — A group of congressmen told the house labor committee today that although representatives of both unions and management have expressed "horror" at compulsory arbitration, no one has suggested anything better.

Rep. Auchincloss (R-NJ) said some witnesses have expressed "horror" and looked upon compulsory arbitration as "un-American." But, he asserted in testimony prepared for the committee, it is still the "only alternative because the welfare of our country will not permit matters to drift any longer."

Rep. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said work stoppages "can no longer be tolerated where the public health and safety are endangered." He said that strike dangers "are not past" and may return in "acute" form in a few weeks.

Auchincloss and Case have joined with three other representatives—Herter and Heselton of Massachusetts and Hale of Maine—in sponsoring a bill for compulsory arbitration of disputes endangering public health or safety, after all other methods have failed.

All five were scheduled to testify today as the house committee began its final week of public hearings on labor legislation. The senate labor committee wound up its open sessions Saturday and now will put down on paper its ideas—generally less far reaching than those of house members—for clamping some kind of brake on unions.

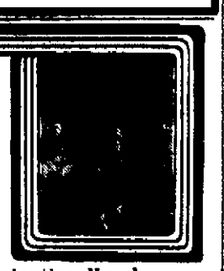
Considerate Service At Moderate Cost . . .



Service and then cost are two of the greatest considerations when funeral service is required. We name service first—intentionally—because it is essential.

The Hughes Funeral Home offers a considerate, personal service. It includes the wishes of patrons so far as it is in our power to grant them—and much can be done along that line when there is a will to do it.

Such service need be no more expensive. We have our own display room where every price is plainly marked. The families we serve choose whatever they wish—and at a price they are prepared to pay. It leaves the matter of cost entirely in their hands. Many have found that the total cost of a service here can be surprisingly moderate.

Women "Go As Is" To Help Church

Special to The Star

GALION, March 10—Considerable ingenuity, combined with a sense of humor and good "fellowship" are being used by a group of Galion women in an effort to add to the building fund of First Evangelical United Brethren church.

The women, all members of the Willing Workers class of the church, which was completely destroyed by fire, last Dec. 1, are devising all manner of schemes to raise funds. Their latest innovation was started last week. It is known as a "get acquainted" or "go as you are" meeting.

The idea works like this. Any member of the class who has a car available may start out in the morning before breakfast and call at the home of other members of the class, asking them to join her "just as they are" Sometimes the member is found in pajamas, nightgown, hair done up in curlers, dressing gown, breakfast coat, or "wash-day" duds. She grabs a hat and coat and rides along in the car until it is filled with other members who have had to leave their homes in the same hasty manner Finally, when the car is filled, the group calls at the home of another member who is unaware that she is receiving guests so early in the morning.

The hostess is required to get breakfast for the group. Each guest, after she has enjoyed her repast, presents the hostess with a contribution, any amount from 25 to 50 cents. This money the hostess turns over to the building fund of the church.

✔ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that BSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the BSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, BSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Two Big Issues Face Foreign Ministers at Moscow Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10—Here is an ABC explanation of the foreign ministers meeting which opens in Moscow today.

Secretary of State Marshall is meeting there with the foreign ministers of Britain (Bevin), France (Bidault), and Russia (Molotov).

They're meeting for two reasons:

1. To try to work out a peace treaty for Austria.

2. To lay the groundwork for a peace treaty, some day, with Germany.

James Marlow

The four men may finish most of the work on Austria at Moscow and then let their deputies complete the detailing later.

The German problem is far more difficult. It may be a year, two years, or more before any treaty for Germany is ready.

So this may mean several more meetings of the foreign ministers and, in between, a lot of work and meetings by their deputies.

(The foreign ministers of the same Big Four nations took 18 months to finish treaties for Romania, Bulgaria, Italy, Finland and Hungary).

Austria Simpler Problem

Because it's simpler, take the Austria problem first. The Allies already have agreed on three big points:

1. Austria shall be free and independent again. Germany gobbled it up in 1938.

2. It won't have to make any payment — reparations — for its part in World War II.

3. Russia, as pay for the huge damage done Russia by Germany, will get much German property in Austria.

But how much German property? That will be the biggest Austrian problem at Moscow.

Now take the German problem which falls into four main parts as the foreign ministers begin their talks:

Getting Germany ready for a peace treaty, the Ruhr, disarmament and reparations. Take them in order.

No. 1—Getting Germany ready for a peace treaty.

No Government To Sign

Germany now doesn't have any government which could sign a peace treaty, even if the Big Four nations had one ready.

Before they can offer such a treaty, they must let the Germans create a government. But what kind?

A strong, central government over a united Germany? The French are afraid that might mean a powerful Germany and another war.

Or a weak, central government over a union of fairly independent German states?

But would such a weak government mean, in the long run, an unprosperous Germany and, therefore, an unprosperous Europe?

Then there's that problem of getting Germany back on its economic feet so that it is self-sustaining. It isn't now.

Divided into 4 Zones

It is divided up into four zones—one each occupied by the United States, Britain, France, Russia—and three economic units.

The United States and Britain merged their zones economically, but this still left all kinds of restrictions on trade and commerce between the Anglo-American and the French and Russian zones.

How then can the Big Four powers work out a plan to treat Germany as a single economic unit so it can become self-sustaining as a nation?

The foreign ministers will wrestle with that one, too.

No. 2—The Ruhr.

The Ruhr, in western Germany, is the industrial heart of that country. It produces the best coal in Europe for making iron and steel.

Other countries, including France, need some of that coal for their industries.

The French fear that, if the Germans control the Ruhr, they can in time cripple other countries industrially and prepare for war again.

So the Ruhr question for the foreign ministers will be: Should the Ruhr be placed under some kind of international control?

No. 3—Disarmament.

This question is: How should Germany be kept from rearming for another war? There'll be a lot of talk on that for a long time.

No. 4—Reparations.

Here the Big Four must decide just what price Germany must pay for the war. This, too, will mean a lot of talk and more delay.

Mothers' Study Club Meets with Mrs. Hite

Mrs. Rollie Hite was hostess to the Mother's Rural Study club of the Child Conservation League recently at her home near Morral, with Mrs. Floyd Van Meter as assistant hostess. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Harry Brewer. Mrs. Nelson Snyder was named chairman of a nominating committee, to be assisted by Mrs. Maurice Heller and Mrs. Louis Schrader. Mrs. Gilbert Herr was appointed to the sunshine committee, and contributions were made to the Red Cross both in Marion and Wyandot counties. Plans were made to sponsor a cancer film in April.

The topic, "Shall I Give My Child An Allowance," was discussed by Mrs. Esther Walters, and a paper prepared by Mrs. Doris Bibler was read by Mrs. Lillian Stiger. A social hour followed and contests were conducted by Mrs. Daniel Gibb, with awards going to Mrs. Harry Brewer and Mrs. Edwin Brewer. Mrs. Samuel Foos was a guest.

Mother of Marion Co. Resident Is Stricken

Mrs. Eva Shields of Athens, mother of Mrs. Lillie Koehler of south of Marion, died in her home Thursday morning after a long illness. Surviving with the daughter here are three other daughters, all of Athens, and several grandchildren including Mrs. Glen Hawk of south of Marion and Orville Koehler of Cardington. Mrs. Shields had visited her daughter and grandchildren here a number of times. Funeral services were set for Sunday at Athens, with burial there.

LEVELING OFF OF SCRAP PRICES SEEN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 10 — Though "inflationary forces" are pushing prices up in the metallics markets, steel scrap quotations may level off before long, the magazine Steel said today.

"Last week, pig iron went up several dollars a ton, scrap continued to spiral at various centers, upward adjustments were effected in important ferroalloys, and lead, copper and silver hit new postwar highs. All in all, the various metallics markets presented every appearance of a boom," said Steel, which also declared the higher prices are accompanied by "uncertainty and confusion in steel and metalworking circles."

The trade journal said "the surge in scrap is unchecked and features the inflationary trend in metallics generally. Scrap, however, is believed reaching a point where a levelling off in prices can be expected, if not a reaction.

"Many trade leaders think the market has moved too fast to higher levels to hold for long, especially with spring just around the corner with its traditional improved flow of material."

Because of "adverse weather which hampered transportation and curtailed industrial gas supply at some steelmaking centers, steel said ingot production "fell behind schedule last week," but its national index of steelmaking rose half a point to 93 per cent of rated capacity.

RURAL HIGHWAY PAPER "SNATCHERS" UNDER FIRE

Star Subscriber Objects To Having His Paper Stolen.

People who stop their cars to pick up copies of The Star thrown off to rural subscribers have drawn the particular dislike of a resident of near LaRue.

The "snatchers" it appears, stop their autos and pick up the papers from the edge of the highway, where they have been tossed from Star delivery cars, before the subscribers can claim them.

The subscriber near LaRue, who has had this experience numerous times, says, even though they do like to read The Star they shouldn't get their paper this way.

"We look forward to reading the paper in the evening and the "throw off" from the delivery car is the only way we can get our copy the day of publication," he said.

Hen Does Double Duty, Lays One Egg, 2 Shells

Charges of sabotage were chalked up against one member of the chicken family by Frank Rush of 677 Florence street as he waited for Mrs. Rush to prepare his breakfast egg Saturday morning.

The family egg basket held a super-size egg, which to the family meant nothing less than a double yolk. When Mrs. Rush broke the shell, preparatory to cooking the egg, she found another perfectly formed egg, shell and all. The outer shell and whole egg were separted only by a small amount of fruid. The egg weighed four ounces and tasted good, even if it did only have one yolk, Mr. Rush opined.

The egg was given to Mr. and Mrs. Rush by their daughter, Mrs. Dewey Miller of near Big Island.

Bowling No Longer A Man's Sport As Marion Women Topple Pins for Many 200 Scores

By ARTHUR B. MYERS

The obvious slander that it isn't safe to walk by the door of a bowling alley on "ladies' night"—you might get hit by a ball, has no foundation in fact in Marion.

Marion women bowlers are having one of their best seasons this year. More 200 score games have been bowled by women and averages are higher than ever before. In fact, it's getting seldom that someone doesn't crack 200 when the women square off

About 150 women are bowling in Marion this year and they take their sport very seriously indeed. Most of the girls bowl in one of two big women's leagues. The Ladies' All Star league bowls at Marion Recreation alleys on Wednesday nights; the Monday Night Ladies league, the junior loop, organized seven years ago, bowls at Palace Recreation alleys

In addition, there are several smaller mixed leagues at both alleys, the women not disdaining to help the men out and give them an occasional pointer.

Bowling is a sport where women compete with men on an equal basis. The pins are just as far away and look just as small for one sex as the other. The balls used by the women are equally the same weight as those used by the men, although the finger grips are likely to be smaller. Most of the top women bowlers use their own ball.

In National Tournament

The girls do not confine their bowling activities to local fields. They compete in many inter-city competitions. This year, for the first time, there will be at least two Marion teams bowling in the national women's tournament, to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich. One of the outfits is sponsored by Markert and Lewis and includes Miss Dorothy Rhinehart, Mrs. Erma Hickman, Mrs. Esther Nece, Mrs. Eve Applegett and Miss Hazel Clapsaddle. The other is composed of top bowlers at Marion Recreation alleys and is being sent by Jim Kayatin, proprietor of the alleys. It includes Mrs Lillie Dalton, Mrs Pearl Snyder, Miss Esther Stafford, Mrs Esta Hinze and Mrs. Grace Gunder

A team representing the Palace alleys is in top place in the North Central Ohio Ladies Traveling league, which bowls on Sundays at a different city every other week The Palace team has won 19 games and lost eight in this league. They hold high team game of 883 and also high three game total of 2,420 for the season. Mrs. Helen Engeroff, a member of the team, rolled high series of 578 for the league this year. Members of the team and their league averages are Mrs Lillie Dalton 158, Mrs. Esther Nece 138, Miss Jean Leser 151, Mrs. Helen Engeroff 151 and Miss Dorothy Rhinehart 160 The league includes teams from Bucyrus, Fostoria, Galion, Mansfield, Shelby and Upper Sandusky.

Another Top-Notch Team

Also bowling in the traveling league is Carroll's Jewelry, a top-notch team, which includes Mrs Pearl Snyder, Miss Esther Stafford, Mrs Georgia Kraner, Mrs. Edna Babcock, and Mrs. Esta Hinze.

Four teams are bowling in the state tournament at Akron, now going on. They are Vess Cola, Markert and Lewis, Gulf Refining, Red Cab and Carroll's Jewelry.

In the Northern Ohio women's handicap tournament at Tiffin are Borden's Dairy, Red Cab, Vess Cola and Carroll's Jewelry.

Several of these teams are also bowling in the inter-city tournament at Mansfield. This tournament has a special interest for Marion in that a Marion woman was one of its organizers 18 years ago. She is Miss Hazel K. Clapsaddle, now treasurer of the Women's Intercity Bowling association.

Miss Clapsaddle helped organize the league in Findlay. At that time Marion, Sandusky and Findlay were the only members Now 110 small Ohio cities belong to the association.

One of the pioneers of women bowling in Marion, Miss Clapsaddle is still one of the sport's most enthusiastic participants here. She is captain and organizer of the Markert and Lewis team

She recalls when women's bowling was decidedly frowned upon and the few of the sport's female devotees had to do their bowling on the quiet. There were alleys in those days at the Y.M.C.A. and she also remembers a place of bowling iniquity in Kenton, complete with three alleys, a coal stove and cuspidors.

Delegate To Association

Miss Clapsaddle is Marion delegate to the Women's National Bowling Association She has attended many bowling conventions throughout the country.

Mrs Grace Gunder, a member of the Gulf Refining team in the Ladies All-Star league, is, on the basis of the record, Marion's top woman bowler this year. She holds high single and series for the season with a 242 game and 611 three-game total. She also has bowled singles of 224, 203 and 202. Her season average of 157 is high for the city.

Other games in the 200 bracket bowled by girls in both the main leagues are Babcock 204, Seiter 203, Hinze 203, Snyder 202, 200, 210 and 223, Hartley 200, Dalton 202, Osterholt 201, Woesaner 212, Crock 220, Engeroff 206, Rhinehart 203 and Thompson 202.

High averages in the All-Star league are held by Gunder 157, Dalton 153, Babcock 153, Snyder 152. In the Monday Night league the following are the four top averages: Snyder 150, Dalton 155, Leser 151 and Engeroff 150.

The leagues are now drawing to a close, but the girls are looking forward to the women's city tournament to be held on two weekends the latter part of this month and to a headpin tourney to be held at Marion Recreation alleys.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt

Peace Crusader And Former Suffragist Stricken at Home

By The Associated Press

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 10—Mrs Carrie Chapman Catt, 88, who entered the fight for world peace after her unflagging crusade for women's suffrage had succeeded, died yesterday of heart disease at her home here.

Only two days before, she had told her biographer, Mary Gray Peck, that she hoped to live to see the United Nations become a "going concern."

"With the passing of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, an era in our national life comes to a close," President Truman said in a telegram delivered yesterday to the Catt home "x x x she will be widely mourned and long remembered"

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, with burial in Woodlawn cemetery in New York City.

A follower of Susan B. Anthony in the fight for women's rights, Mrs Catt saw her long campaign succeed in 1920 with adoption of the nineteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

President Woodrow Wilson named her to his woman's committee on national defense during World War I.

She was born Carrie Jane, in Ripon, Wis., on Jan 9, 1859.

The rebuffs she received when she tried to make her own way by selling newspaper advertising led the young widow into the feminist movement

From 1900 to 1904 she was president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, and then went abroad to work for equal rights in other countries. In 1915, she returned to the presidency to lead the final successful fight for women's voting rights In 1919 she founded in non-partisan National League of Women Voters.

CRILE HOSPITAL TIFF TO BE INVESTIGATED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 10 — A controversy over treatment of psychiatric patients at Crile veterans administration hospital here today appeared headed for a full-scale congressional investigation.

Another probe was being launched by Ralph H. Stone, deputy administrator of the veterans administration for Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan, who announced in Columbus that an investigation by a board of competent professional people" would start today.

Congressman - at - large George H. Bender (R-Cleveland) said he would fly to Washington today to request that the newly authorized house veterans sub-committee on hospitals make the Crile investigation its "first order of business."

Other members of congress from Ohio added their voices to the clamor demanding determination of the truth or falsehood of charges made here Friday by Dr. Alan B. Adam, resigned chief of the neuro-psychiatric service at Crile. Dr. Adam, in resigning, accused Dr. Harrison S. Collisi, hospital manager, with being "unsympathetic" with the cause of psychiatry

Congressman Walter B. Huber (D-Akron), a member of the sub-committee, said Saturday in Washington that he "intends to see action taken."

Another member of the house, Frances P. Bolton (R-Cleveland) called for a full report from the veterans administration Mrs Bolton said she would ask Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans administrator, for action today.

Home from Washington over the weekend, Republican Senator John W. Bricker said at Columbus:

"The veterans administration should immediately determine if there is any substance to these charges and whether or not they are personal."

Bender said he personally had received many complaints from patients at Crile nospital "and at Brecksville hospital, too."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Dysentery

Forewarned is forearmed, and so today medical science is on the alert to recognize diseases from other parts of the world which may have been brought back and spread to others by returning service men.

According to Dr Albert M Snell of the United States Naval Reserve, one of the diseases which is likely to become mort frequent as a result of the war is amebiasis, also called amoebic dysentery This disorder is caused by infestation with a parasite known as the endamoeba histolytica

Dr Snell estimates that from 2 to 10 per cent of the people of this country already suffer from such infestation He warns that widespread outbreaks could result from contamination of water supplies either by those recovering from an attack or those who harbor the parasites without showing any symptoms

Ameba first attacks the intestinal tract, where it may cause dull abdominal pain, some tenderness within the abdomen and mild anemia Even this mild condition should receive immediate attention by the doctor

In its acute form, the disease may cause bloody diarrhea, intense pain in the abdomen, chills, vomiting and sometimes, collapse. In most instances the disorder starts with moderate diarrhea some griping, loss of weight and anemia The symptoms may be much like those of appendicitis. In milder cases, there may be attacks which go and come over periods of months or years with pain in the abdomen, continuous loss of weight, anemia and slight fever.

The X-ray examination may be helpful in making a diagnosis of amebiasis. Of course, the stool should always be examined for the presence of the parasites or their cysts. Such examination must be carried out by one who has been trained to recognize the ameba It is sometimes necessary to examine from 12 to 15 stools before the parasites are found.

A number of preparations are utilized in treating amebiasis. Dr Snell suggests the giving of emetine hydrochloride by injection under the skin for a period of five days. On the third day a preparation known as carbarsone is given three times daily for seven days. After an interval of a week vioform is given three times daily for a week and a week later the carbarsone treatment is repeated

Such treatment may serve to eradicate the amebae completely and bring about a cure of the disorder. Other physicians prefer different forms of treatment and use emetine especially when abscesses of the liver are present.

The most important factor in preventing the spread of amebiasis through a community is early recognition and treatment of isolated cases

WARNING!

Colds Epidemic Spreading—Do This:

Follow these health rules. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water Get plenty of rest. Avoid crowds and people with colds.

And if you do catch cold, remember that the best-known home remedy you can use to relieve distress is to rub throat, chest and back at bedtime with Vicks VapoRub. Results are so good because VapoRub's relief-bringing action starts to work instantly . . . and keeps working for hours in the night to bring relief. Often by morning the worst miseries of the cold are gone. Try it! Get the one and only Vicks VapoRub!

IMPORTANT! To help prevent many colds from developing, do this: At the first warning sneeze or sniffle, put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril. Follow directions in the package. Va-tro-nol works right where 3 out of 4 colds start . . . relieves sniffles, sneezes and stuffiness . . . and actually helps prevent many colds from developing if used in time! So with colds spreading, always be sure to keep Va-tro-nol handy . . . use it early.

If the miserable symptoms of your cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family doctor.

Wisconsin Picks Up Two High Basketball Honors

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 10—Wisconsin picked up two high honors in basketball over the weekend—winning the Big Nine championship and dominating the All-conference team by taking two places—and today awaited a third, an invitation to the NCAA eastern playoffs in Madison Square Garden, March 21-22.

The three-man selection committee of the NCAA fourth district—Doug Mills of Illinois, Bill Chandler of Marquette and Ben Van Alstyne of Michigan State—was scheduled to meet in Chicago today to award the NCAA berth.

The Badgers walloped Purdue 72-60 Saturday night at the Evanston High school gym in the finish of a game interrupted Feb. 24 by the collapse of bleachers in the Purdue fieldhouse.

GIANTS AND TRIBE EVEN IN EXHIBITION

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., March 10—The Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants were all even today after the first two games of their spring exhibition series.

The Giants accounted for the deadlock yesterday by winning 8 to 7 in a game played at Phoenix before 6,425 spectators. A fly ball lost in the sun by outfielder Ted Sepkowski enabled the Giants to produce the run that meant victory.

Al Gettel and Gene Bearden hurled for the Tribe while Dave Koslo, Monte Kennedy, Bill Voiselle and Ken Trinkle worked for the Giants.

ALL ONE-MAN TEAMS DUMPED BY WAYSIDE

32 Smooth-Clicking Cage Outfits Left in Regionals.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 10—Most of the one-man teams have fallen by the wayside, and from now on the "one for all and all for one" teams will battle it out for Ohio's 1946-47 high school basketball laurels.

Only 32 of some 1,180 squads were left today to compete in regional races this weekend—and only eight of them, four in class A and four in class B—will come to the state capital March 20, 21 and 22 to fight it out for the Buckeye championship.

Hundreds of the teams, with one star player bearing the brunt for inadequate mates, failed in the month-long eliminations. The survivors, although most of them are studded with talent, are smooth-working machines built on the "let's all get in there and go" principle.

Class A regionals are booked this weekend at Kent, Athens, Springfield and Bowling Green.

New Bloomington, Caledonia, LaRue, Waldo in Junior Finals

After two busy sessions on the Morral floor Saturday New Bloomington, Waldo, LaRue and Caledonia advanced to the semi-final rounds of the Marion county junior high school tournament. The semi-finals will be staged Saturday afternoon and the final championship round will follow Saturday night.

In the opening afternoon round New Bloomington defeated Meeker 46 to 35, Waldo swamped Pleasant 43 to 8, LaRue dumped Claridon 33 to 12, Kirkpatrick put Prospect out 36 to 19 and Caledonia eliminated Morral 31 to 25.

In the night session New Bloomington came from behind to defeat Green Camp 49 to 23, LaRue kicked Grand Prairie 41 to 8 and Caledonia eliminated Kirkpatrick 38 to 31. Martel forfeited to Waldo when they dropped out of the tourney because it conflicted with a community institute at Martel.

In the semi-final round Saturday New Bloomington is to oppose Waldo at 1:30 and LaRue will hook up with Caledonia an hour later. The two losers will meet in a preliminary at 7:30 for consolation honors. The championship game between the afternoon winners is booked for 8:30.

FIVE BIG NINE TRACK RECORDS SHATTERED

Two Tied as Illini Win Meet; O.S.U. Second.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 10—The Big Nine listed today five records broken and two tied in one of the greatest meets in conference indoor track history.

The Illini captured their championship at Champaign, Ill., with a run-away total of 62 points, 28 more than runner-up Ohio State.

World 440 champion Herb McKenley of Illinois who retained his league quarter-mile title Saturday night after setting a new American indoor mark of 48 seconds flat, reported that Arthur Wint from his native Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies, would be a future track sensation at Illinois.

Wint, who is 6 feet, 5 inches tall and has a 10-foot stride, has whipped McKenley every time they faced over 220 yards in foreign competition during the past several years.

In Saturday night's finals, Dwight Eddleman of Illinois retained his high jump title with a leap of 6 feet, 7⅛ inches; Michigan's Charley Fonville nudged the shot 53 feet, 2½ inches, some 18 inches further than the league record, and Ohio's mile relay team won in 3:18 to topple the Big Nine standard by nine-tenths of a second.

Bill Porter of Northwestern equalled the American and conference record with an :08.5 triumph which upset defending champion George Walker of Illinois in the 70 highs, while Herb Barten of Michigan raced to his second straight 880 title in 1:53.9, equalling the oldest record in the conference books set by Indiana's Chuck Hornbostel in 1933.

Y GIRLS' TOURNEY STARTS TOMORROW

The jaunt down the tourney trail starts tomorrow night for the Y.M.C.A. girl's league teams.

Like the men's tournament it will be double elimination.

Medals will be given to members of the two squads which play in the finals which will be held the first Tuesday of April. In-between dates are March 18 and March 25.

Tomorrow night Smitty's Girls tangle with Ward Stilson in the first game and the Y-Girls play Universal Cooler in the second. Harpster Ex-Hi drew a bye.

In regular seasonal play this year Smitty's led the league with 7 wins and only one loss and the Cooler entry placed second in the loop with five wins and three losses.

None of the other feminine squads was able to finish with a better than .500 average.

Columbus Rosary Triumphs Via Free Throws in Overtime

Early Lead Slips from Hands of Irish as Victors Keep Vow.

By GEORGE ROEST

Columbus Rosary's Crusaders kept a promise made to their coach at the end of the season in decisioning St. Mary cagers 38 to 35 Saturday night in the most dramatic game produced in the class B tournament at Westerville.

By winning this game, which they also wanted to win for Tony Pusateri, regular Rosary captain who was out with a broken ankle, they became the first Parochial team to win the district class B title since 1942 when the Marion Irish took the crown.

Six Fouls, Do It

The game lasted through five periods and when the smoke had cleared the six fouls called on the locals in the three minute overtime defeated them as the Columbus crew collected five points.

In that period Dick Schuler kept Irish hopes burning with a going away push shot. Pat Bray, the only St. Mary regular who will not be on hand when cage practice opens next year, was the player who's two points with 28 seconds to go tied things up and sent the game into the extra period.

Bray's coolness under fire has been a stabilizing influence and Saturday night he drew the assignment of guarding Jack Farsons, large high-scoring Rosary center.

Prior to this game Farsons had been averaging over 20 points per tournament contest but he made only 10 Saturday night.

Outstanding Rosary Player

Probably the top individual showing was made by Sonny Wile, Rosary forward. His floor work was outstanding and up until the time when he left the game on fouls with two minutes to go he had been the key man for Rosary.

To name the outstanding performer for St. Mary is almost impossible as John Baldauf, who's three field goals each erased one-point deficits and sent the locals into the lead may have been, or Dick Schuler, who topped point makers with 14 and broke up the Rosary attack on several occasions by playing a headsup defense could claim the honor, and Bob Stuber whose stellar floor play is always outstanding comes in for his share of mention. Dick Drake also gave a good account of himself and it was he who sent the ball down the floor to Bray for the fielder that tied things up.

All-Tourney Team

Bob Stuber and Dick Schuler won berths on the All-Tourney team selected at the conclusion of the class B Central District tournament at Westerville.

The teams are:

First squad—Jordan (Plain City) and Nash (Worthington), forwards; Farson (Columbus Rosary), center; Stuber (St. Mary) and Scheiderer (Marysville), guards.

Second squad—Schuler (St Mary) and Wile (Rosary), forwards; Winston (Ostrander), center; Lambka (Plain City) and Kingsmore (Marysville), guards.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

WITH perfect poise and not a glance at Mary, on the couch in my study, Olga Verliven answered my apparently casual query in the same fashion.

'Why, of course, my dear Madge,' she said "I am sure that Mary will not waken'—not by the movement of an eyelash did she betray that neither of us were sure of the genuineness of Mary's slumber—'and if she should, I am sure that I will be able to attend to everything she may need.

Will Be There

"So take all the time you wish, I shall be right here when you come back."

"I shan't be but a minute or two," I promised as I went out of the door—still with no sign of wakening from Mary—and, fairly rushing down the hall to our living apartment, called the extension of Dicky's studio pent house.

"Madge!" he ejaculated in patent surprise "You don't mean that mary has gone away! Where—when—"

"You're omitting 'who,' 'What,' and 'How'," I told him, feeling the need of something to lighten the tension under which we were both laboring.

"What business have you with the reporter's litany?" he demanded in kind "You're only a 'trained seal' that hasn't been given an assignment. But, joking aside, where the heck is Mary?"

May Be Faking

"Supposedly asleep on the couch in my study," I told him. "Only 'supposedly' I'm not at all sure she isn't faking."

"But, good heavens!" he exclaimed "You don't mean you left her alone in the state she was in when I left! Gosh, I never was so ashamed of myself in my life! Bawling the poor kid out, when what she needed was a strong shoulder to weep on You sure were a life-saver, old dear! But you haven't answered my question. Did you leave her alone? Suppose she wakes up—or isn't asleep?"

"You didn't give me a chance to answer any questions," I told him sedately. "First she isn't alone Olga is with her, and will stay until I come back."

"Olga!" His voice was almost a shout, and I knew from his obvious excitement how upset he was over the plight of his beloved niece "Do you mean that Mary consented to see her?"

Couldn't Help Herself

"She couldn't very well help herself," I said 'When Olga knocked on the door, Mary gathered up her thing and raced for the bathroom, shutting herself in But unfortunately she left one of her well-known special brand of kerchiefs behind her Olga spied it, recognized it, and I couldn't deny that she was there So Mary came out, shared our tea very prettily, and then I persuaded her to lie down until it was time for her to go down to her apartment to meet Noel Incidentally, she insists that she won't see him for the first time alone, that I must go with her'

"But, good grief!" he exclaimed in masculine horror. "She can't do that to Noel after she hasn't seen him for all these months!"

"She not only can, but will," I told him, "unless we can figure out some way to stop her That is my chief reason for telephoning you But I must tell you something else before we discuss that problem"

Prepared for Anything

"What else has happened?' he demanded "Go on! I'm prepared for anything now."

I plunged directly into the tale Olga had brought me, of the telephone interview Philip had had with the sanitarium physicians, and of what they had told him of Mary's inexplicable behavior

"What in the hinges of Hades?' he interrupted "Do you suppose those volumes of plays had to do with the price of cotton?"

"I haven't any idea," I answered, salving my conscience with the thought that the fantastic conjecture which had flashed into my mind did not deserve to be called an idea "But that isn't the important thing Our impresario is on the war path and you know what that may mean for Mary."

Terry and the Pirates By George Wunder

BROOD HOT, MY FRIENDLY — WE'VE MANAGED TO GET TO THE SHIP WITHOUT LOSING TREK. ANYWAY, WE'VE REASSEMBLED THE MAGNETOS AND SHE'S FLYABLE .. WIND UP THEM COFFEE GRINDERS AND LET US SCRAM OUT OF HERE.
... AND ANYWAY, YOU COULDN'T EXPECT A CHICK LIKE BONNIE TO GET HIGH-MINDED ABOUT A LITTLE OL' SCRAP OF PAPER. THAT SHE WROTE STRICTLY AS A CHESS MOVE WHEN SHE WAS IN A TIGHT SPOT.
I SUPPOSE NOT, BUT IT STILL RANKLES — OH, WELL, ASSUME AN AIR OF HOPEFUL EXPECTANCY... WHILE WE SEE IF WE'RE GOING TO FLY OR MESS UP THE LANDSCAPE.

The Gumps By Gus Edson

OH, WELL, I HOPE IT'S ALL WE THINKS IT IS — HE'S SUCH A SWEET, DEAR OLD MAN —
